Every year we see countless beautiful designs from hard-working, creative teams all over New England. Ahead, we share the smartest, chicest rooms of the bunch.

Boston Home

What started as a shed renovation and new pool construction blossomed into this beautifully integrated landscape that maximizes the harbor views. Zen Associates designed the year-round cabana as a glassy retreat and elevated the pool to avoid the need for a fence. At night, the cabana serves as the main source of light, augmented by low point lights around the deck and in the plantings. All in all, a seamless solution to the eternal pool/pool house conundrum.

There is nothing like having an outdoor fire table.

"We use ours on weekend mornings reading the paper and many evenings when grilling with friends. It creates a very warm and personal space, and it is very sculptural like", says Peter White, Principal of ZEN Associates, Inc. We have designed and built gas fire tables for rooftops, back courtyards, and corporate landscapes. If you are warming up to this idea, give us a call.
